Interest rates on bank deposits – France • March 2023

- The average interest rate on bank deposits rose again to 1.38% in March.
- The average rate of return on household deposits more than doubled over one year to 1.63%, impacted in particular by the two significant increases in the Livret A rate in August 2022 and February 2023.
- The remuneration of NFC deposits, which was almost zero in March 2022, stood at 1.02%, driven by both the rise in rates on term accounts and the more limited rise in rates on overnight deposits.

- a. Interest rates presented here are effective rates calculated by dividing the accrued interest flows for the months under review by the monthly averages of the corresponding outstanding amounts. For the different types of deposits, including step-up deposits, they correspond to the average conditions practiced during the month under review by the French credit institutions on deposits of non-financial corporations and households (including non-profit institutions serving households) residents.
- b. In addition to the households' and NFC's deposits, the global deposits remuneration rate includes other money-holding sectors (other general government, insurance corporations, non-monetary market funds, investment funds and securitization vehicle)
- c. Regulated rates passbooks include passbooks A, blue passbooks, sustainable development passbooks, home savings plans, youth passbooks and people's savings passbooks.
- d. Monthly averages.
- e. 5 years Constant Maturity Rate. Source: French Bond Association.
- f. Revised data.
- g. Provisional data.
- h. Including taxed saving books, other special saving accounts, people saving plans (PEP) and subordinated loans
